MARKET COMMENTARY

Australian Dollar 78.63 US as of 1/03/2007

NORTHERN REGION – Sydney Sale S35/06

On Tuesday – After a solid start, merino fleece eased a little through out the day, on the back of a lower style selection. 19 micron came under good competition rising 5 cents, 19.5 and broader closed par to buyers favour as the low style, high mid break types were soundly discounted. In the finer micron ranges (<18) best style & strength types received solid support however the bulk of the offering consisted of lower styles which accounted for the fall in the fine wool micron price guides. Merino Skirtings were generally firm for all types & Vm out to 8%, merino locks rose by 5 cents, crutchings by 10 while stains remained very firm. 27-30 micron XB posted very little change. 11.4% Passed In

On Wednesday – Merino Fleece generally tracked side ways (almost a mirror of Yesterdays market). Buyers were once again attracted to the 19 micron region with increases of around 5 cents for these types (and more for the better style and strength wools). All other microns were generally unchanged. 4-6% Vm skirtings were unchanged while burrier types containing 8-10% were slightly easier. Merino locks & Crutchings also closed firm as did the crossbred market. 12.6% Passed In

On Thursday – The market gained ground as a result of strong buyer competition. 17microns through to 21 rose 5-10 cents with some fine top making types (<18) up to 20 cents higher. In general it appears that buyers have reduced their discounts (which were increased earlier in the week) on some of the lower style types. Merino Skirtings remained very solid for good style & length types, locks & crutchings also closed very firm with a limited offering of washing types (Low Vm) in strong demand.

Next weeks offering consists of 51,236 bales (a decrease of 2.6% on the previous estimate of 55,600 bales).

A Decile rank is a rating, usually of performance, on a scale of 1 to 10 where 1 is best, 10 is worst, and each number corresponds to an increment of 10 percentage points.

A percentile is a value on a scale of one hundred that indicates the percent of a distribution that is equal to or below it. In general, a percentile less than 25 is considered below normal, a percentile between 25 and 75 is considered normal, a percentile greater than 75 is considered above normal.

Table 6 shows estimated returns per head on fleece wool, based on a skirted fleece weight of 9kg. These figures do not take into account the value of skirtings and oddments and do not take into account discounts that may apply for faults under individual circumstances. These figures are based on a market index of 100% and should be used as a guide only. Returns over $30 / head for fleece wool are highlighted.

Table 8 shows estimated returns per head on fleece wool, based on a skirted fleece weight of 7kg. These figures do not take into account the value of skirtings and oddments and do not take into account discounts that may apply for faults under individual circumstances. These figures are based on a market index of 100% and should be used as a guide only. Returns over $30 / head for fleece wool are highlighted.

Table 10 shows estimated returns per head on fleece wool, based on a skirted fleece weight of 5kg. These figures do not take into account the value of skirtings and oddments and do not take into account discounts that may apply for faults under individual circumstances. These figures are based on a market index of 100% and should be used as a guide only. Returns over $30 / head for fleece wool are highlighted.

Table 11: Returns for fleece wool pr head, based on skirted weight of: 4 kg

Table 12 shows estimated returns per head on fleece wool, based on a skirted fleece weight of 3kg. These figures do not take into account the value of skirtings and oddments and do not take into account discounts that may apply for faults under individual circumstances. These figures are based on a market index of 100% and should be used as a guide only. Returns over $30 / head for fleece wool are highlighted.
